ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, TOURISM DEVELOPMENT & MANAGEMENT (JOB #11265)

The School of Community Resources & Development at Arizona State University is seeking a full-time, tenure track assistant professor in tourism studies.

The School of Community Resources & Development is located at ASU’s Downtown Phoenix campus. The mission of our school is to advance the social, economic, environmental and cultural well-being of our local and global communities through instruction, research and service. We provide internationally recognized interdisciplinary research expertise and innovative academic programs with community development as our foundation. Please visit our web site at: http://scrd.asu.edu/

DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES
The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain internationally-recognized research programs, deliver excellent in-class and online instruction at the undergraduate and graduate levels, contribute to curriculum development, advise graduate student research (Master’s and PhD), and participate in service activities for the school, college, university, profession and community.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS
• Earned doctorate in tourism, recreation, leisure studies, community development, geography, planning, economics or a closely related field from an accredited institution at the time of appointment
• Evidence of a strong or promising program of scholarship in tourism studies
• Evidence of teaching effectiveness

DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS
• Teaching and research focused on sustainable tourism and community development
• More specifically, teaching and research emphasis on tourism planning and development, tourism economics, and/or tourism and community development
• Demonstrated ability to teach effectively online and in the classroom
• Evidence of work on externally-funded research projects
• Ability to work with culturally-diverse populations
• Interest in developing and leading study abroad programs

APPLICATION PROCEDURE
Only electronic applications will be reviewed. Applicants are asked to upload the following as one document only in a Word doc or PDF format: letter of application in which you describe your fit to the position relative to the qualifications listed, curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching and a one page (maximum) statement of teaching and research philosophy and approach, and three references with complete contact information (mailing address, phone and email). Other materials may be requested of those selected for interviews. Applicants are asked to address application materials and questions to Dr. Gyan Nyaupane, Search Committee Chair (gyan nyaupane@asu.edu).
Upload application as one combined document to https://publicservice.asu.edu/content/jobs. The review of applications will begin on October 27, 2015; if not filled, reviews will occur every two weeks thereafter and will continue until the search is closed.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity / Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. For a complete statement of ASU’s nondiscrimination statement, refer to http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html and https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/.

ASU offers applicants an opportunity to voluntarily self-disclose information for the University affirmative action plan; applicants may complete an EEO survey for the position they are applying for online. Information you will need to complete the survey: Job Number: 11265, Job Title: Assistant Professor, Department Name: School of Community Resources & Development.