

(3) ASSISTANT PROFESSOR POSITIONS (JOB #11275)

The School of Social Work at Arizona State University (ASU) invites applications and nominations for 3 full-time tenure-track line positions on the Downtown Phoenix campus, as an assistant professor to begin in Fall 2016. Applicants should demonstrate a strong research trajectory in an area of social work. Experience with culturally diverse populations is especially valued. Interest in immigration and border issues, and related social problems, also is desirable.

The ASU School of Social Work offers the BSW, MSW, Ph.D., and Bachelor of Arts in Community Advocacy and Social Policy degrees, with locations in Downtown Phoenix, Tucson, Flagstaff and Online. ASU is a leading research university committed to expanding educational access, use-inspired and community embedded research, and using research and teaching to transform society. The SSW is a vibrant community of scholar-teachers committed to having a racially and culturally diverse faculty and student body. The School's curriculum, research, and community partnerships emphasize understanding and respect for the unique social, political, and cultural diversity of the Southwest.

ASU provides an intellectually collegial and supportive environment that fosters interdisciplinary and international research. Our strong research and educational infrastructure includes the NIH/NIMHD funded Southwest Interdisciplinary Research Center, the Center for Applied Behavioral Health Policy, the Center for Child Welfare, Title IV-E Child Welfare Programs at the BSW and MSW levels, the Office of American Indian Projects, the Office of Global Social Work, the Office of Sex Trafficking Intervention Research, the Office of Forensic Social Work, the Southwest Collaborative on Immigration, Inequality and Poverty, and the Office of Latino Projects. The School engages in collaborative projects across the State of Arizona and is an active participant in the diverse urban and community life of Phoenix and Tucson.

Required Qualifications: Candidates must have an earned doctorate in social work or a related field by the starting date of appointment. A scholarly research agenda that has the potential for external funding to support a program of research is essential, as is evidence of ability or potential for teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Desired Qualifications: An MSW is preferred. Ability to teach on-line courses is also highly valued. Salary is commensurate with qualifications. Early application is advised.

Application Procedure: Only electronic applications will be reviewed. Applicants are asked to upload the following as one document only in a Word doc or PDF format: Curriculum vitae, statement of research agenda and teaching interests, teaching evaluations (if available), no more than two samples of written/published materials and three professional references with complete contact information (mailing address, phone and email).

Upload application as one combined document to <https://publicservice.asu.edu/content/jobs> The review of applications will begin on October 3, 2015; if not filled, reviews will occur each Monday thereafter and will continue until the search is closed. Arizona State University is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer Diversity is encouraged amongst the applicants. Background check required prior to employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity / Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. For a complete statement of ASU's nondiscrimination statement, refer to <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html> and <https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>.

ASU offers applicants an opportunity to voluntarily self-disclose information for the University affirmative action plan; applicants may complete an EEO survey for the position they are applying for online. Information you will need to complete the survey: Job Number: 11275 Job Title: Assistant Professor, Department Name: School of Social Work.