Pool Recruitment for Adjunct Faculty Positions
School of Criminology and Criminal Justice

The School of Criminology and Criminal Justice (SCCJ) invites applications for Faculty Associate positions. Faculty Associates are part-time, adjunct faculty who teach one or two courses per semester, either in-person or online, on a contractual basis. Depending upon the course, Faculty Associates may be required to use a master syllabus that includes required books and assignments. For other courses, Faculty Associates are free to develop their courses around the approved course descriptions and learning outcomes.

The College of Public Service & Community Solutions’ SCCJ is a nationally recognized leader in higher education and is highly regarded for its distinguished faculty and research productivity. The School offers undergraduate, masters, and doctoral degrees, as well as several certificate programs. The School is conveniently located on the ASU Downtown Phoenix campus in the heart of the sixth largest city in the United States. Our proximity to major criminal justice agencies enhances the opportunities for research, instruction, practice, student internship experience, and community-based service learning opportunities.
