CALL FOR PROPOSALS
INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

“By The People”

Participatory democracy, civic engagement and citizenship education

Arizona State University

December 3-5, 2015

Participatory Governance Initiative
School of Public Affairs, College of Public Service and Community Solutions
Arizona State University

In collaboration with
Center for Law and Global Affairs, Arizona State University
Center for Policy Informatics, Arizona State University
Center for Civic Participation, Maricopa Community College
School of Social Transformation, Arizona State University
New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences, Arizona State University
Mary Lou Fulton, Teachers College, Arizona State University
Center for Urban Innovation, Arizona State University
Morrison Institute for Public Policy, Arizona State University
Participatory Budgeting Project

Arizona State University is proud to announce it will be hosting a conference on participatory governance, civic engagement and citizenship education. The event will be designed to share research findings, engage in provocative and meaningful discussions, learn from accomplishments and failures, and be inspired by innovative approaches, strategies, policies, tools and practices. The conference will bring together academics, students, practitioners, researchers, appointed and elected public officials, teachers, administrators, members of community organizations, and all those interested in participatory governance, public engagement and citizenship education. The conference will combine academic presentations with practical workshops, We are interested in attracting theoretical and empirical contributions that are related to the three conference themes.

Conference themes

1. Participatory Governance
   Historical perspectives; the legacy of the Magna Carta for the project of democracy
   Theoretical and practical issues in participatory governance
   The legal dimension of participatory governance
   Representative and participatory democracy: connections and tensions
   Principles, policies and programs
   Ethical issues in participatory governance
   The architecture of participatory governance: enabling structures and processes
   Public officials and “invited spaces”
   Dialogue and deliberation
   Direct democracy
   Open governance and transparency
   Co-governance and self-governance
   The commons and associative intelligence
   Online participatory governance; E-democracy
   Innovative approaches, tools and practices (e.g. citizen juries, participatory budgeting)
   Evaluation of participatory democracy policies and programs
   Other topics related to participatory governance

2) Civic engagement
   Forms and levels of citizen engagement
   Civic engagement policies and programs
   Motivations for civic engagement
   Civic engagement and community development
   ‘Passive’ and ‘active’ citizenship
   Engaging diverse communities
   Youth engagement
   Leadership development
   Strategies for effective engagement
   Motivations, capacities and opportunities
   Individual participation and associated participation
   Neighborhood associations
   Evaluation of civic engagement policies and programs
   Online and hybrid civic engagement
   Impact of civic engagement
   Innovative approaches, tools and practices
   Other topics related to civic engagement

3) Citizenship education
   Citizenship education in K-12
   Citizenship education in colleges and universities
Citizenship education in non-formal educational institutions
Informal citizenship learning
Community capacity building
Impact of citizenship education
Education for, about and in democracy
Democratic schools
Service learning
School councils
Global citizenship education
Evaluation of citizenship education policies and programs
Comparative and international perspectives in citizenship education
Citizenship education and peace education
Innovative approaches, tools and practices
Other topics related to citizenship education

Important Dates:
• Deadline for submissions of abstracts: May 15, 2015
• Early registration: June 1, 2015 to October 15, 2015
• Regular registration: After October 16, 2015

Submission Guidelines: Presenters must submit an abstract of their presentation (around 250 words) by May 15, 2015. The abstract should indicate title, name and affiliation of presenter(s), the relationship of the presentation to one or more of the conference themes, and the format of the presentation. Presentations are organized into four categories: paper/project presentations, panels, roundtables and workshops. All sessions will last 90 minutes.

To submit an abstract, please go to https://publicservice.asu.edu/abstractsubmit

Paper/Project Presentations: These sessions are designed for participants to present research findings, research in progress, research proposals, community projects, “think pieces” and theoretical reflections around the topics of the conference. Graduate theses, doctoral dissertations and reflections on practice are also welcome. Qualifying presentations will be grouped together based on subject, geography or other thematic considerations by the program committee. Each session will have 3-4 presentations, followed by at least 30 minutes for Q&A and discussion. Paper proposals should include title of presentation, name and affiliation of presenters, and a 250 word abstract.

Panels: These self-organized sessions are collections of three or four papers on a related theme. Ideally, these papers build upon each other, thereby adding to the coherence of the panel. Panel organizers are responsible for preparing an abstract of the panel as a whole.
For panels comprising 3 presenters, each individual will be expected to speak for no longer than 20 minutes; for panels of 4 presenters, each participant will be expected to speak for no longer than 15 minutes, providing time for Q&A and discussion. The abstract for a panel should include a title for the panel, names and affiliations of panel participants, and titles and abstracts for each paper included in the panel.

Roundtables: These sessions provide an informal opportunity to discuss diverse or conflicting ideas or research in progress and research issues with a group of participants. Roundtables are interactive dialogues that rely on the ideas of four or five panelists, facilitated by a moderator. Adequate time should be allotted for audience participation and Q&A, but it need not be the primary focus, as in the previous formats. Roundtables are well suited to the discussion of the implications of an issue for practice, a conversation about research agendas around specific topics, or the examination of contrasting perspectives on an issue. Priority will be given to panels that reflect diversity of opinions, backgrounds and/or geography. Roundtable proposals should include a title for the roundtable, names and affiliations of roundtable participants, and an abstract with the description of the roundtable.

Workshops: The goal of a participatory, experiential workshop is the active involvement of participants in an activity designed to learn certain skills, gain specific knowledge, or engage in a debate about a particular issue. “Presenting” by the workshop facilitator/s should be limited. Proposals should include a title and an abstract (250 words), and indicate how facilitators intend to involve participants in the workshop.

Presenters who would like their papers to be considered for inclusion in a post-conference publication are asked to send their paper before January 31, 2016. Papers should not exceed 3,500 words (excluding references).

Conference Fees:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Early Registration</th>
<th>Late Registration</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Regular Fee</td>
<td>$150</td>
<td>$200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reduced fee (students, retired, unemployed and Global South participants)</td>
<td>$80</td>
<td>$120</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For questions or suggestions about the conference, please send a message to democracyconference@asu.edu