

Other Applicable Activities

Projects or activities not already described in the examples listed above may also be considered for point awards on a case-by-case basis, including completed Service Learning projects, non-mandated community service projects, and projects completed for scouting or other leadership development projects, pending fulfillment of supplemental award criteria (below). Such activities may be considered for point awards if they are deemed as eligible for consideration, utilizing the following criteria:

ELIGIBLE

- ✓ Of broad general benefit to students and the community.
- ✓ Related to increasing the capacity and involvement of students and community members in governmental processes, political actions, community decision making and community change processes.
- ✓ Related to increasing awareness about critical community and political issues.
- ✓ Undertaken for the benefit of the community and increasing students' and community members' capacity for effective political and/or civic engagement.
- ✓ Of educational benefit to both the student leading the activity and also to the other involved students and community members.

NOT ELIGIBLE

- ✗ Limited to members of a specific political party, religion, or other closed-group membership.
- ✗ Does not address, or further exacerbates disconnect between community members and community and political change processes.
- ✗ Related to promoting issues of limited relation to or value for the general community; or where the objective is related to religious proselytizing.
- ✗ Undertaken for personal gain, profit or monetary reward, except where it is not possible to forgo payment (i.e. working at the electoral polls).
- ✗ Educational benefit is primarily or only to the student undertaking the activity.
